Newly Wed Couples Numerous at White Sulphur Springs

Golf and Morning Walks Popular With Visitors; New Yorkers Who Appear Among the Early Arrivals

Special Correspondence
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va., June 14.—This might well be called "honeymoon week" at White Sulphur Springs, for many young bridal couples have come to the West Virginia hills. Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, jr., whose wedding in Pittsburgh a fortnight ago was a prominent affair, passed a part of their honeymoon here. Miss Iselin was Miss Elizabeth Sharpless Brown, of Pittsburgh. They have taken a country home at Warrenton, where they will go during the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lumis, whose wedding took place recently in New York, are passing some time at the Greenbrier, where they have come to play golf. On Monday evening they entertained at dinner at Elmhurst Farm for Mr. and Mrs. Orlow.

Kate's Mountain Club is attracting many people at the sunset hour, and many parties gather on the broad porches there for a late tea or early dinner. The club commands one of the most beautiful views in the Adirondacks, and parties going there delight in comparing it to foreign scenes. René La Montagne, who is here from New York, entertained at dinner there Monday evening.

New York Colony at Southampton Opens Homes for Summer

Mrs. J. S. Doubleday Among Those Who Have Already Leased Places for Their Annual Vacation Time

Special Correspondence

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., June 14.—

The season at Southampton has opened auspiciously with the arrival of many of the summer colony. By the end of the month the majority of the residences will be occupied and the season will be in full swing.

Mrs. J. S. Doubleday, who has leased the Edward Davis residence on Hill Street, has sublet her place to J. H. Schermerhorn, of New York, and will occupy a place at East Hampton.

W. G. Oakman, who has been absent from Southampton for many years, has leased H. A. Borrowes's Moon-glades on Shinnecock Hills and is expected to arrive the latter part of the month.

Other arrivals in the Shinnecock Hills are the Steven C. Clarks, of New York, who have taken Miss Swayne's large house, Neamogue, for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson have taken Mrs. Connel's cottage. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Ely are settled in their villa, Fort Hill, which has just been completed.

Mrs. C. F. Rogers has again leased Sunnycroft for the summer and arrived Monday. Colonel and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson opened Fair Lawn on Thursday, on which day Mrs. Edward H. Vaningen arrived at her cottage. The Dolphins, on First Neck Lane, Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, of Westbury, Long Island, has leased Holme Lea. Dr. Norman E. Ditman has taken Mrs. L. L. Terry's house on Hill Street, and the Littleton Foxes have arrived at Breezy Hall on Captain's Neck Lane.

Mrs. Dallas B. Pratt is occupying George Fordham's East Cottage, the Ralph J. Prestons, of Redbank, N. J., are at the R. R. Quay's Duneside, and Mrs. Oren Root has arrived at Fondamere for the summer. Mrs. E. S. Twining is again at her cottage on Great Plains Road.

Duncan A. Ellsworth has leased and is occupying Thomas M. Carnegie's Clyden on Cooper Neck Lane; the J. H. Wrights have opened their Golden Rod cottage on Dune Road, the J. R. Dilworths are installed at Mrs. Bett's Mecomanto, on First Neck Lane, and Mrs. Walter Cutting will again occupy the Cleary cottage on Meeting House Lane.

There will be a number of motor boat races here July 4, and the residents of Freeport are planning to rent races for motorboats, which have not been held for some years.

There is scarcely a vacant house in Freeport this week. About all the desirable ones are now occupied, and more residents of Brooklyn and New York are here now than in many years.

Brooklyn Clubs Will Frolic at Freeport

Society Women Aid Reunion of 69th At Garden City

Proceeds of Memorial Concert To Be Applied to Erection of a Tablet in Armory; Taft to Preside

Special Correspondence

GARDEN CITY, L. I., June 14.—

Society women throughout the district are taking a great interest in the reunion and memorial concert of the famous Blue Devils, Company C, 165th Infantry, which will take place at the Garden City Hotel June 19. The boys of Company C of the old 69th New York were the first to break the ground on what is now Camp Mills. Before they went overseas they formed many friendships, and all of the people of the district are working to make the concert, the proceeds of which will be used to erect a memorial tablet in the armory, a success.

The following women have consented to act as patronesses: Mrs. George Elder Adams and Mrs. William McAdoo, of New York; Mrs. William B. Youngs, Mrs. William Nesmith, Mrs. J. J. Lannin and Mrs. Henry W. Taft, of Garden City; Mrs. Charles A. Pettinos, of Oyster Bay; Mrs. Cord Meyer and Mrs. W. Clarke Rod of Great Neck; Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett and Mr. R. R. Sizer, of Plandome; Mrs. W. W. Cooke, of Westbury; Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, of Port Washington, and Mrs. George A. Taylor, of Manhasset.

Plans are being made at the Garden City Hotel to entertain the soldiers before the concert, and many dinner parties are being arranged. All members of the old 69th have been invited to attend the concert. Henry W. Taft will preside at the reunion of the boys of Company C.

Officers of the United States Air Service gave a farewell dinner on Tuesday evening to Lieutenant Colonel H. W. Gregg, for some months in command of the famous Mitchell flying field at Garden City, which has been purchased by the government and will become, in a few months, one of the foremost flying fields of the country.

Colonel Gregg is to command the supply depot of the Detroit Field, and Colonel Archie Miller, in command of a Long Island flying, and a score or more of his staff, came over from the Hazlehurst Field.

This has been an ideal week for golf, tennis and polo, and all are now well under way at Garden City and vicinity.

The national tournaments have commenced at Meadow Brook and for some days there have been scores of players on the Salisbury course, which is opposite the Meadow Brook Club. Between golfing and watching the polo tournament the Salisbury visitors have found their time well taken up.

The Garden City Country Club and the Cherry Valley Club, together with the Salisbury Club, are also planning a number of interesting events. All macadam highways to the Salisbury course have been remade, and the electric rail system has been extended to Meadow Brook station, both for the polo and golfing enthusiasts.

Arrivals at the Garden City Hotel from New York are Mr. and Mrs. South C. Rogers, Mrs. J. E. Prior and Mrs. M. W. Evans, Arthur J. Daly and Miss Helen Daly, Mrs. W. H. McGee and Miss Ruth Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo P. Keller, Mr. W. T. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gondran, Mrs. Wilhelmina B. Lockwood and Miss Beatrice Ryan, Mrs. Ryan K. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wigglesworth, H. B. Sargent, Berkley C. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Gunther, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Egbert, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Egbert, Mrs. John Asperger, Mrs. Wallace Shillito, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Verner, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bicknell.

Miss Madge Dunnell, of New York, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Sydney L. Smythe.

Long Island Council of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Prescott Sherer, of Garden City, president, held its annual convention at the Garden City Hotel on Tuesday, about 200 members being present for luncheon.

Members of the musical colony who have arrived include Victor Herbert and George Hamlin, tenor, who are at their cottages. Marcella Semblich will arrive soon. Other arrivals include the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst and Mrs. Parkhurst.

Jesse Livermore, who will spend the season with his bride, formerly Miss Dorothea Wendt, of Brooklyn, at his camp, High Knoll, has erected a garage and boathouse at a cost of $18,000.

At Saranac Lake Village the matter of establishing new golf links is in the hands of a committee headed by Dr. C. C. Trembley. Woodruff Leeming, of New York, has leased a cottage at the Birches, Lower Saranac Lake. Others from New York who have leased cottages include Miss Blanche Harris, Mrs. Mary V. Flanagan, George Heck and Frank McCarthy.

Campers on the St. Regis chain of lakes at Paul Smith's are prepared this season to stimulate golf events by offering prizes for the St. Regis River Golf Club course. Among those interested is Herbert Lee Pratt, of Glen events will contribute to make of the season of 1919 in the Adirondacks a complete success, and by July 4 arrivals at the hotels and cottages will have attained proportions heretofore equaled only in midsummer.

At Lake Placid members of the summer colony are coöperating with a local committee in preparation for a "welcome home" celebration of two days, July 3 and 4, in honor of the returned soldiers, sailors, marines and war workers from Essex County. Subscriptions now being received will enable the appropriation of $3,500 by the county, members of the summer colony being generous contributors. Among the events planned is an airplane flight, the first in the Adirondacks. This is by arrangement with Major Henry J. F. Miller, commanding Hazelhurst Field, Mineola, and upon request of Representative Bertrand H. Snell.

Mrs. F. B. Guild of the cottage colony established a record a few days ago when fishing in Lake Placid. After pulling a twelve-pound lake trout to her boat and finding that she had neither gaff nor landing net, Mrs. Guild seized the fish in her hands and after a struggle succeeded in getting it into the boat.

Members of the musical colony who have arrived include Victor Herbert and George Hamlin, tenor, who are at their cottages. Marcella Semblich will arrive soon. Other arrivals include the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst and Mrs. Parkhurst.

On his estate, Garondah, at Elizabethtown, Frank A. Munsey is having extensive improvements made and will do much entertaining during July and August. Among members of the Elizabethtown cottage colony expected to arrive soon are Judge and Mrs. Augustus N. Hand, of New York, and Justice Charles N. Kelly and family, of Brooklyn.

Preparations for the annual regatta of the Westport Yacht Club are already occupying the minds of the members of the summer colony at Westport-on-Lake Champlain. Among the New York members of the cottage colony there in this season will be Mr. and Mrs. William R. Nash and family; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Griswold, at Meadowdale; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bradley, at Kumechache; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whitehead, at the Homestead; Miss Helen Bradlee, at Mountain View; Mr. and Mrs. D. Thousand Islands to Enjoy a Gay Season

Special Entertainments Are Planned by Colony; Old Time Gayety Is Expected

Special Correspondence

ALEXANDRIA BAY, New York, June 14.—

Social life at the Thousand Islands promises a distinct lift from the dull days during the war. Many improvements in the cottages and hotels on the picturesque islands of the St. Lawrence River have been made since last summer. The Thousand Islands House, at Alexandria Bay, has an extension of one hundred rooms, and the Westminster Hotel, on Wellesley Island, has been enlarged.

Among the early arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley, of Washington and New York. The Rev. Herbert M. Shipman and Mrs. Shipman will spend a portion of the summer with Mrs. Shipman's parents, the Edson Bradleys.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Boldt, of New York, arrived last week, and have opened their cottage on Wellesley Island.

Mrs. Carrie S. Haabrouck and Mrs. Helen Le Fever, of New York, arrived early in June, and have opened their cottage on Manhattan Island.

Charles L. Hayden, of New York, who is secretary of the Thousand Islands Yacht Club, has arrived at Alexandria Bay for the summer. Commodore Charles S. Rees, of New York, has also arrived and will spend the summer at his house, Bella Vista, to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dewart, of New York, who arrived with their three children on June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Wheeler, of New York, have opened their cottage, Wau-Winnet, and will spend the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Langdon Hayden, of New York, have opened their cottage for the summer. Mr. Hayden is the treasurer of the yacht club, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Conde, of New York, arrived the latter part of May and will spend the summer at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Markle, of Hazlet, Penn., have leased the cottage of Mrs. R. H. Eggleston, Idlewild.

Mrs. Robert A. Osborne, of New York, will arrive next week and remain for the summer on her houseboat, the Arcadia. Lieutenant and Mrs. Frederick H. Tillinghast will be Mrs. Osborne's guests.

William H. Warburton, proprietor of the Thousand Islands House, spent last week at the Thousand Islands. He returned to New York but will arrive next week for the remainder of the summer.

Members of the musical colony who have arrived include Victor Herbert and George Hamlin, tenor, who are at their cottages. Marcella Semblich will arrive soon. Other arrivals include the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst and Mrs. Parkhurst.
